COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Interest on taxes will become effective Dec. 1. Any unpaid taxes on that date will be charged an additional 1/2% per month retroactive to Oct. 1.

We have found the 1975 automobile excise taxes are time consuming due to errors and deficiencies in the new system we must use. It will be stressed regularly in this column for automobile owners to, if they possibly can, call the office before coming in, in order that we may check the preprinted forms, otherwise they may find they must wait, especially later, when the rush begins.

This new system is completely computerized. The few registrations we have done have proven there are many errors and omissions. If these are not corrected this year they will reappear next year. The system, we feel, will be beneficial as there will not be last of February rush we are all familiar with. The first year, which will be 1975, will present problems. It is much more important to pay the excise tax early as we will not be able to process them as we have in the past.

If a person calls we can have theirs checked out and ready whenever they wish to come in and pay the tax.

LOCAL, COUNTY, STATE VOTERS FAVOR LONGLEY IN TUESDAY VOTING

Saunders Leads Willard in Contest for State Legislature

Bethel voters gave Independent candidate James B. Longley, Lewiston, 416 votes for governor in Tuesday voting, with Democrat George J. Mitchell of South Portland received 347, and Republican James S. Erwin of Pittston trailing with 289 votes. Other independent gubernatorial candidates, Stanley J. Leen Jr. of Bangor and William Brown Hughes of Portland, received five and eight votes respectively, from local voters.

Similar sentiment was shown throughout Oxford County as Longley garnered 6,964 votes, Mitchell 5,723, Erwin 3,578 Hughes 60, and Leen 103.

Throughout the State Longley polled 137,154 votes; Mitchell 128,352; and Erwin 81,434.

In the District 63 Legislative race, Emily C. Saunders, Democrat, led incumbent Republican J. Jay Willard, in Bethel by a 571 to 472 margin. Throughout the District, Mrs. Saunders defeated Mr. Willard, 1,268 to 1,225.

Bethel voters favored Democrat Edward M. Quinn of Gilead over incumbent Norman K. Ferguson, Jr., of Hanover, Republican, in the contest for the District No. 1 County Commissioner slot. Overall Ferguson was the winner over Quinn by a 3,098 to 2,165 margin.

Second District Congressman William Cohen received 804 votes in Bethel, with 253 ballots being cast for Democratic challenger Markham Gartley. Oxford County returns gave Cohen 11,005 and Gartley, 4,992. Voters in Maine's Second Congressional District returned Cohen to office by a 109,477 to 45,369 margin.

Oxford County voters favored William F. Perkins of Rumford, Republican, over Burton A. MacDonald of Peru, Democrat, for County Treasurer, by a 7,896 to 7,282 tally. Bethel voters leaned toward Perkins by a 530 to 468 margin.

Bethel voters favored Forrest E. Marlin of Norway, Democrat, for District 5's State Senate seat over Republican Philip C. Jackson, Harrison, by a 516 to 487 margin. Oxford County totals had Marlin leading Jackson, 4,044 to 3,585, with returns from the Cumberland County towns of Otisfield, Harrison, and Bridgton unavailable late Wednesday. It is understood that tallies in these towns were sufficient to elect Mr. Jackson.

In the District 16 State Senate race Donald O'Leary, Democrat, defeated Republican Paul W. Fuller, by a margin of 6,037 to 4,607.

In the contest for Oxford County Register of Deeds (Eastern District) Democrat Olive B. Moore of Paris defeated Kathleen F. Mersereau of Rumford, Republican, 8,251 to 5,449. Bethel voters favored Moore, 622 to 366.

In unopposed county-wide races, incumbent Sheriff Alton L. Howe of Waterford, Democrat, received 14,125 votes and Thomas E. Delahanty II, Lewiston, Democrat, totaled 12,825 for District Attorney (Prosecutorial District No. 31. In

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Collita Morgan, Corres.

"I sense a sacred hush about the hills. A tender yearning not to be denied. Summer's gone and winter's yet to come. This interlude between is mine alone."

From now until Thanksgiving Maine's weather should be fine. It's never monotonous, always has variety, and is healthful. We complain, but we've never been picked up by a tornado and deposited where it would take a week to walk home. In some states that is not out of the ordinary. No danger of being caught in a devastating flood and deposited in mid ocean; we are not deprived of water by prolonged drought, and as kids say, we won't be all shook up, we are quite sure, by earthquakes. So our weather can't be half as bad as we complain.

I found nothing to complain about as I hiked this week. One day I rustled up the spring road and into the woods among the massive beeches, majestic oaks, and birches white and slim. They brought to mind pillared cathedral aisles so vast; trees making Gothic arches with their branches interlaced.

Along these paths not long ago, birds sang but now trees stand stripped and bare.

It was a day just meant for roaming; carpets of leaves upon the ground and the air warm and pleasant. There was no wind and the forest lay in calmed silence. I wandered among the trees fascinated by fungi formations and ferns still green. I crossed a knoll and down toward the ledges. Here it was rich in earth scents. My feet sank into the plush of the moss as I advanced into the silent depth. I paused by a stump furry with moss and moldering away.

Autumn died beautifully, with a shiver of quaking aspens and perfect days following down upon us; this was one of them.

Coming now to the ledges, I could look down upon the pond, up Sanborn River, over the valley and the road.

The ledge was crumbling along the outer edge, eaten away deeply by years of frost and rain.

I sat for some time watching the water catching the sun and casting it back in a shimmering blaze.

Cars, a truck, the school bus rumbled their way, momentarily breaking my blazing trail and my trend of thought.

Ahead out of the distance the curving waves of ridges dragged across the landscape with furrows of valleys between.

I lingered as long as I could then decided to go down a ridge between the ledges to the road rather than go back through the woods. As I started the jays screamed "No... Can't!" so it seemed to me. While clearly from across the pond, twice repeated, came, "Who? who-oo, who?"

Who indeed!

Carefully edging my way but traversing slowly, I reached the road then on toward home.

Shortly the sun slipped down into the pond; its afterglow like a golden bloom upon the still waters.

Doris Hayes and Colista Morgan met with other teachers at Doris Slatery's, West Paris, for dinner on Friday.

Ann Holt spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt.

A few ghosts and witches were out Halloween evening calling for their treats. They were a polite and welcomed group.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris have returned home from a visit with relatives in New Hampshire.

Richard Smith, a senior at Telstar Regional High School is employed at Andover Wood Products. This is Richard's second year in the Co-Op Program. Since the beginning of his employment at Andover Wood Products, Richard has learned much about employer-Employee relationships and working with other employees. He has learned how to handle different situations on the job. Although Ricky is currently operating the glue-clamp and the rip saw, he would like to learn how to operate a fork lift and or work in the saw mill. Ricky also does some shipping. He enjoys working with the other employees and his supervisor, Julian Gilbert.

Through the Co-Op Program Richard would like to learn more about the work he is currently doing. Ricky believes that Co-Op has given him work experience which will help him decide if this is what he would like to do for a career. In the related class at school, Ricky would like to discuss topics dealing with money-management, decisions making, and labor laws and unions.

When Richard isn't attending school or working, he enjoys swimming, biking, snowmobiling and fishing. A life-long resident of the district, Richard is the son of Labor Department evaluations indicate that the Public Employment Program designed to provide transitional jobs and needed public services during an economic slowdown, has had an impact both in reducing unemployment and in expanding local public services.

CHURCH OF NAZARENE NEWS

The church held a short service with songs and testimony at the Sunset Home in Bryant Pond Sunday afternoon and enjoyed talking with guests there. Those attending were Rev. Barbara Huse her husband, Roland Huse, Jim Cobb and sons, Jimmy and Preston, Sandra Larlee and Mr. and Mrs. John Mills.

There will be a Sunday School Teachers convention held at Fairfield Nov. 15 and 16. Those going to the evening session on Nov. 15 will be able to spend the night at the pastor's home in Dryden if they wish, so they can attend the Saturday session. Bring Sleeping bags.

HOSPITAL WILL OBSERVE 50th ANNIVERSARY, NOV. 10

Rumford Community Hospital will observe the 50th Anniversary of the date of founding with a dedication of the new addition and guided tours on Sunday, Nov. 10. The hospital was founded on Nov. 12, 1924.

Senator Edmund S. Muskie is scheduled to deliver the main address.

The new addition will be dedicated in memory of the hospital's founder, Dr. Eugene M. McCarty, and remarks will be given by his nephew, Dr. Albert P. Royal, Jr., chief-of-staff.

Welcoming remarks will be given by Fred E. Hanscom, president, board of trustees, and closing remarks by Harry M. Lownd, III, director.

Fr. Arthur J. Cloutier will give the opening invocation and Rev. Robert H. Plummer, the closing benediction.

The program will take place outdoors in the back of the hospital at the southern end which views both the new northeast wing and the southeast extension.

Mrs. Doris Jensen, president, Hospital Auxiliary, and a team of 20 auxiliary members will host guided tours through the new additions and renovated sections of the hospital. All renovations are not complete primarily due to delays in receiving supplies and equipment, but these areas will be shown and explained.

A reception and refreshments will follow in the cafeteria.

A special tour for Hospital Fair workers will take place on Saturday, Nov. 9, beginning at 2 p. m.

Of special interest during the tour will be a display of old instruments many of which were used some 50 years ago. This will include home delivery instruments used by Dr. J. A. MacDougall and D. J. A. Thibodeau, old instruments used by Dr. E. M. McCarty and Dr. H. Howard, and miscellaneous hospital instruments. The display will be arranged and explained in the recovery room by Theresa Beauchamp, R. N., operating room supervisor.

Invitations were mailed this week of hospital contributors, Hospital Fair workers, town officials and others. However, all interested members of the community are invited to attend the dedication program and tour the hospital.

Nurses Alumni president, Joan Roderick, R. N., has scheduled the annual Nurses Alumni Banquet for Saturday, Nov. 9, at 6:30 p. m. at Madison's Restaurant, East Rumford, so members attending from out-of-town could remain in town for Sunday's dedication program.

Also in observance of the hospital's 50th Anniversary, a progress report highlighting a brief history of the hospital has been prepared and will be mailed within a few days. Extra copies will be available at the dedication program.

DIPLOMATS TO PERFORM AT TELSTAR

The Harlem Diplomats comedy basketball team will be appearing at Telstar Regional High School Saturday evening, Nov. 7, at 8 o'clock when they will oppose a team composed of faculty members.

HUNTER ORANGE POSITIVE EFFECT ON ACCIDENTS

Hunters are increasingly appearing in our upland coverts and deer stands wearing fluorescent blaze orange (FBO) clothing—and with good reason, according to Gary Anderson, co-ordinator of Maine's hunter safety effort.

Laws have been passed in 17 states now, including Maine, making the wearing of FBO mandatory for at least some types of hunting. It is surprising that more states have not passed such laws, given the undisputed fact that FBO is the color most highly visible to the greatest number of people—even those with defective color vision.

An analysis of the 1972 and 1973 fall hunting seasons in Maine (1973 was the first year for mandatory FBO) shows that total accidents dropped from 14 to 11, mistaken-for-game situations were reduced from 11 to six, and fatalities went from three to one. In the first year!

The Pennsylvania Game Commissioner recently reported, "There has never been a person shot in Pennsylvania who was wearing fluorescent orange and who was mistaken for game." In 1973 alone, there were 25 accidents in the Keystone State involving hunters who were wearing the traditional red and an additional 31 mishaps involving hunters who wore no safety color at all. Kansas passed a mandatory Hunter Orange Law in 1965; they haven't had a single fatality in the mistaken-for-game or in-the-line-fire categories since. Georgia passed its law in 1973 and reported its first season without a hunting fatality in 20 years. The list goes on and on.

Even in states where legality is not a factor, hunters who know the score are retiring the Crab bird-shooting coat and the red plaid deerstalker's jacket. And why not? With the exceptions of waterfowl and wild turkey, game could care less if the sportsman looks like a neon sign to other hunters. Visibility is not a factor in spooking upland game, and big game is color blind.

It all adds up to a single simple fact: Being seen is being safe. So, whether you are hunting where it is required or not, get into fluorescent orange this year. A small investment in fluorescent-colored field clothes can pay big safety dividends.

30 Seconds WITH THE NAZARENE

Rev. Barbara Huse, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene

So what is new? Almost the first thing we do every morning is read the daily news. You know that can be one of the most depressing experiences of the day. We live in a day of excellent communication. It is possible to read-hear-and see news in the making. Sometimes it is difficult to find any real good news. Cheer up, there is a solution to the problem. Go to the Right Source—there you will find the Good News. Oh yes—you are sharp today—way ahead of us! Of course you are correct. Go to the head of the class—open the Text. Book then read the Good News!

The Gospel is the Good News! "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel Christ: for it is the Power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek." Romans 1:16.

Letters to the Editor

November 6, 1974

To the Editor:
It is always a pleasure for us, who read our Bethel paper, to hear a comment or two from our old friend, Mark Cymrot. Even when he usually spans some of us.

With respect to the "Citizen's" news release on the rickshaws appearing in the New York area, he appears to hand the Editor a left-handed compliment; particularly in his reference to the "Daily News" and "All the News that's Fit to Print."

Perhaps he didn't read small columns on page 68 in the former, or page 93 in the latter. Seems reasonable to suppose that the "Citizen's" editor read an AP news item and so reported it to enlighten his interesting weekly. I'm sure he meant no offense to Mr. Cymrot's heartfelt conviction that all wisdom and enlightenment is engendered in New York. Perhaps the rickshaws may not be confined to the New York Chinatown only, but find their way into Central Park (along with bicycles and Hanscom cabs), or even to the boondocks of Prospect or Fort Greene Parks in Brooklyn. Perhaps "Fun City" may even give them right-of-way on Fifth Avenue.

As to the term "juried," which seems to be an affront to Mr. Cymrot's sense of what is proper, it must be admitted that no dictionary, as yet, defines it as a verb. The dictionary does, however, give a secondary definition of the word "jury," as a committee that gives an award in competition. So it's logical to "verb" it and not just "noun" it, isn't it?

Language serves the art of communication. Whatever well serves that art should be acceptable, even to purists. As Mr. Cymrot has pointed out in the past, the concept of change in matters of politics and economics is always with us. So it is, I think, with language.

LOCKE MILLS

Mrs. John Mills, Corrae.
Mrs. Lee Mills was pleased with a visit Sunday from a grand niece she hadn't seen for 10 years. Mr. and Mrs. Royden Pierce (Pamela Cole), Keith and new baby, Heidi, from East Poland, called on her on their way home from visiting Mrs. Pierce's grandmother, Mrs. Vi Churchill of Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Perley Gordon and Roy Gordon are spending their fall vacation hunting up north this week. Harold Chasson also accompanied them.

Mrs. John Mills visited Mrs. Earl Colby Monday evening at West Greenwood while John Mills visited his father, Verne, at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cross and Mrs. Lillian Lapham were in Norway shopping Saturday.

Norwood Ford, who had surgery on both eyes, one on Thursday and one on Monday, is progressing satisfactorily at St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston and, if no infection sets in he expects to come home by the week end.

Mrs. Mae Dunham retired from her work at Ekco Wood Products on Thursday, Oct. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills went to Gorham Thursday evening to get Ralph at UMPG. They stopped at Bolster's Mills to pick up his sister, Mary, who had the week end off and planned to spend it with her brother Donald Mills and family at Bethel. It was very difficult driving due to the fog and having to keep a sharp lookout for little "trick or treaters" who were not about to let the foggy condition keep them home. Ralph returned to UMPG Saturday as he had to work Saturday night. He was in Rumford Friday on business.

Lloyd "Joe" Cole finished his work at Ekco Wood Products on Friday, Nov. 1, and has employment in Rumford.

The Community Club will meet Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, 7:30 at the Town Hall.

Ladies Circle will hold its annual Christmas sale, Friday, Nov. 15, at 11:30 a. m., beginning with a fish chowder, crackers, pie, coffee and tea. Tables will be white, elephant, food and bazaar this year.

Mrs. Lettie Ford, West Paris, is spending some time at the home of her son, Norwood, while he is in the hospital.

John Mills celebrated his 48th birthday, Sunday, Nov. 3. He was served cake and ice cream at the social hour following the Sunday evening services at the Bethel Church of the Nazarene. Following this he took his sister, Mary Mills, back to her work at Bolster's Mills.

Lester Cole celebrated his birth- day last Sunday, Nov. 3 with most of the family visiting through the day. His sisters, Muriel Cole and Lena Morgan called; also his brother and wife, Carlton and Nonie. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Noyes, Celand and Mrs. Mattie Noyes of Wilton, were supper guests.

The Food Stamp dates have been set for Nov. 18 and 19, from 9-11 a. m. and 1-4 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Margery Swan.

TELSTAR IS 19-6 VICTOR OVER MEXICO IN SEASON'S FINALE

Levi Brown scored two fourth period touchdowns to give the host Telstar "Rebels" a 19-6 win over Mexico's Pintos in Mountain Valley Conference football action last Saturday afternoon.

It was the seventh victory for the Rebels against a pair of setbacks, while the Pintos finished at 4 and 5 in the MVC wars.

At the eight minute mark in the opening period Mexico recovered a fumbled punt on its own 49. On the first play Jeff Downs connected with Jim DeFillip on a 51-yard pass-run play for the Pintos' lone tally of the contest. A rush for the extra point failed.

Jim Osgood blocked a Mexico punt and Chris Olson covered it in the end zone to put Telstar on the board in the second quarter. Paul Farrar's successful placement gave the Rebels a 7-6 advantage at intermission.

After a scoreless third period Farrar intercepted a pass and ran it back 25 yards to set the Rebels up on the 27. Three plays later Brown tallied from the 12. A kick for the extra point failed.

Late in the period Telstar marched 73 yards in 14 plays with Brown racing over from the two with 1:03 remaining. The extra point kick failed.

The summary:
Mexico 6 0 0 0—6
Telstar 0 7 0 12—19
Mexico—Downs 51, pass from DePhillip, rush failed.

Telstar—Olson, fumble recovery in end zone, Farrar kick; Brown, 12 run, kick failed; Brown, 2 run, kick failed.

Joel Kramer, Hatha Yoga expert, will be at Gould November 11-14. Mr. Kramer will be visiting classes and will hold seminars with groups of students. Mr. Kramer has visited Gould for the past few years and is enjoyed by all.

Gould took defeat at the hands of Boothbay on Saturday 47-6; that game ended the '74 season.

Fryeburg Academy won the Maine Prep School Cross Country title here Friday afternoon with 71 points. In second place was Kents Hill with 74 points. Gould Academy, hosts and defending champs took third with 77 points. In order were Bridgton Academy, 82; Hebron Academy 111; M. C. I. 112; Hinckley 144. Highlights, Gould (77) Pete Moberg, 8; Kents Hill, 10; Bill Ash, 11; Mark Bryant, 17; Fritz Lauenstein, 31.

The Gould cross-country team will be competing this week in the New England Class "C" meet at Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H.

The soccer meet with Richmond was a loss in some ways but not in others. The team lost on Saturday 3-0. But much was achieved even if they didn't win; there was good team spirit and if a team can take a loss like they did, they are really winners.

UPTON

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

A Halloween party was held at the Ladies' Aid building under the direction of Eleanor LeCompte, Sally and Gail Lavallee. The children received many prizes and walked past the tables to get their bags full of goodies donated by the townspeople. One of the more hilarious events was the musical chairs game for the younger group. When the children got up to march, one half went clockwise and the other half counter-clockwise. The first child to miss a chair dived under a table in the corner and began to howl. When the second child was out, Ellie told her jokingly to go under the table and cry with Charlie. She took it seriously and laid under the table looking very sad. When only two children were left playing, the rest were all under the table giggling by now because the adult laughter was nearly drowning out the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mitchell spent a few days in their camp on Back Street. They called on friends to say goodbye as they are leaving for Florida next Sunday.

Mrs. Lena Maguire of Massachusetts and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maguire of Londonderry, N. H., spent the week end with the Ed Brennonns.

Arthur Betz turned his truck over on Errol Hill Monday evening. He received minor injuries.

The Ladies Aid held a business meeting Saturday with nine members present. Plans for Christmas program were formulated with committees appointed. It was decided to have a supper Saturday, Nov. 23 There will be a whist party in the evening following the supper.

Lisa Goodrum celebrated her 11th birthday recently rather than her 10th which was reported.

Dean Libersky has moved his trailer onto the Charron acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Charron have gone to Florida for the winter.

Robert Charron was in Pawtucket, R. I., over the week end.

Bob Charron and friend of Rhode Island visited relatives and friends recently.

Rosemary and Lisa Goodrum went to Norway Tuesday for check-ups.

HEAD START NEWS

Hallowe'en week proved to be quite full for our children. On Wednesday the following mothers met at the center and cooked refreshments for the party: Linda Leon, Edleen Fraser, Candy Howard, Mary Tyler, Queda Billings, Jennice Cole, Gemma Morrill, and Carol York. The kitchen was filled with the smells of caramel apples, krispie treats, fudge, and a cake in the oven. The following day the children got to enjoy all the treats as well as playing games. They bobbed for apples, had an apple rolling race and a relay race. Each child had his own paper bag mask to take home.

On Tuesday, Nov. 5, four of our children went to the dentist. Daryl Currier was the very first one to get his teeth cleaned at Dr. Rece's. Also going were Lee Ann Patten, Melody Sanford, and Scott Fraser. Jody Morin had a birthday a few days ago—he celebrated with a family party.

The mothers will be having an Avon party at their next coffee. There will also be plans discussed for a rummage sale, Christmas basket and New Year's Party. The toy orders were all turned in last week and it was a great success.

We have made a growth mural in the center and each child has his height recorded on it.

Volunteers have been: Carol York, Mary Tyler, Candy Howard, Norman Stone, Virginia Learned, and Lynda Haegle.

SUNDAY RIVER SKIWAY HAS TOP TO BOTTOM SNOWMAKING SYSTEM

Sunday River Ski Area in Bethel, has completed a major expansion of its snowmaking plant and now offers machine made snow coverage from the top of the 5,100 foot double chair lift to the base lodge, 1,500 feet below.

The Western Maine ski area, which has made snow on its half-mile Mixing Bowl Slope for several years, has installed 13,000 feet of pipe, three compressors, and added 550 gallons per minute to water pumping capacity, to extend snowmaking along a 1½ mile intermediate trail from the top of the mountain.

Snowmaking operations will also continue on the Mixing Bowl novice slope, giving Sunday River a full two miles of slopes and trails covered by machine-made snow.

Also new at Sunday River this season is a wide intermediate trail called Ecstasy, which begins at the top of the 5,100 double chairlift. Ecstasy is covered top to bottom by snowmaking. It connects with the Lower Cascades Trail which also has snowmaking coverage.

Budget conscious skiers will find Sunday River's installment payment plan for season passes a big help. The "ski now - pay later" permits the skier to pay one third of the cost of a season pass in the fall, another third on Dec. 10 and a final third on Jan. 10.

Sunday River expects to begin operating sometime in early or mid-November. Last year, thanks to snowmaking and good local snowfall, Sunday River's skiing season lasted 160 continuous days from Nov. 19 to April 27, a longer season than any other area in Maine or east of Killington in Vermont.

This year, with snowmaking at higher elevations and hopefully a larger natural snowfall, the season may extend even longer.

Large scale snowmaking is relatively new to most skiers and ski areas alike. Areas like Killington Ski Area in Vermont have emphasized big snowmaking operations for some time, but most areas have contented themselves with a small snowmaking system usually located on lower beginners slopes.

Two had snow winters in a row have changed all this. Large scale snow making plants are now being installed in many ski areas, including Sunday River and Sugarloaf, USA in Maine.

Snow is made when a mixture of water and compressed air is forced through the nozzle of a snowmaking gun. The fine water particles crystallize in cold air and form sugar-like granules which can then be groomed into the finest packed powder condition.

Snowmakers turn on their guns to patch bare and icy spots on well skied portions of natural snow trails. They also cover entire trail or slope with deep snow base before natural snow falls, an operation which requires large amounts of water, a strong pumping capacity, and round the clock supervision.

The critical factor in any snowmaking system is water, both availability of water source and ability to pump water to the snowmaking guns high on the mountain. Sunday River has enlarged its existing reservoir to meet demands of a new 800 gallon per minute pumping capacity. Sunday River

HEALTH COUNCIL PREPARES "BANNER FOR BETHEL"

Members of the Bethel Health and Service Council, under the guidance and direction of George and Maggie Phillopon are making a 36 foot long banner which will perhaps be helpful to Bethel. This banner, made from sheeting sewn together, with letters 18 inches high, will say to millions of T. V. fans that "BETHEL, MAINE, NEEDS A DOCTOR". The Phillopons and 16 of their friends will hold this banner up at Schaeffer Stadium while they are attending the New England Patriots football game on Sunday, Nov. 10. Be sure to watch for it, if you are a football fan, or better yet, a Bethel Health Center Fan!

In addition to the banner, an interview at WCHS-TV has been arranged to publicize the need, and the BANNER FLYING on Sunday. On Friday afternoon, Health Council representative Sue Laban will be interviewed and taped at the TV studio. This tape will be shown on the WCHS-TV News before the game on Sunday (that is on the evening news Friday or Saturday.) Be sure to watch for it!

If all goes well, we will have some interested persons contact us with a solution to our problem of medical coverage—and we will in turn be able to tell them of our plans for the Bethel Health Care Center. It is our hope that we will interest some doctor in office
